R. A. Barney, the well known merchant, returned today from New York where he has been engaged in buying goods. Consignments of a fresh stock of fall and winter goods are arriving daily at Barney's popular dry goods emporium.

Maxwell, chief of the ragging ring in the county jail, is busy writing his autobiography. His trial comes off next Monday, and he is desirous of expediting work and requests the aid of a lady typewriter. Some young lady should gain a reputation by being an amanuensis to a noted bank robber.

Wm. E. Rydahl left this week for Ann Arbor, Mich., to pursue the study of law. Mr. Rydahl is a former professor in the B. Y. A., and was last year principal of the Springville schools. In a pedagogical line Mr. Rydahl has made a decided success and his many friends join in wishing him success in his legal studies.

Accidents are numerous this week. Judge Kellogg hurt his hand. How? By sliding it along a rope, or rather, vice-versa.

Lucian Ray, of Oasis, Millard county, is visiting friends in this city. Mr. Ray goes to Salt Lake Sunday to attend the University this year.

Stanley Partridge, son of President Partridge, left this week for Ann Arbor, where he has been for the last three years, except this summer, to further pursue the study of music.

A most enjoyable reception was given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stubbs in honor of the marriage of their daughter Sarah to Mr. James Markman. A large number of relatives and friends were present who congratulated the couple on their change of life and wished them pleasure to the end.

Rage Whitney, Provo correspondent for the Salt Lake Tribune, leaves Provo today, having quit working for that paper. Whitney is a popular young man and a wide awake news reporter. We wish him as much success elsewhere as he has had here. Nels Larsen succeeds him as Tribune correspondent for this place.

Thursday a very unfortunate accident happened to the little two-year old boy of S. G. Ray, city drayman. While coming from the depot the child, who was sitting on the highly elevated seat with his father, suddenly became overbalanced and fell to the ground. One of the wheels ran over his hand, crushing it badly and entirely amputating the middle fingers.

President L. Holbrook of the Grand Central mine went up to Salt Lake on Wednesday to see about arrangements for the new steam hoist for that property. The contract for the new plant has not been placed, but will be in the next few days. It will be a magnificent hoist, but no better than such a property as the Grand Central is entitled to. That great Tintic mine promises to make millionaires of some of our enterprising and daring Provo capitalists.

The Coalville correspondent of the Salt Lake Herald says: "An opportunity is now presented which, if taken advantage of by our citizens, will eventually bring many dollars to our town, furnish employment to many of our citizens and prove a general benefit to the community. W. D. Roberts of Provo has located near here a claim on which is a fine body of potter's clay of excellent quality. He proposes to establish a pottery and if the people of Coalville will give the encouragement which an enterprising people should do the new industry will be established right here, just where it ought to be."

CHINESE CHARACTERISTICS.

Their Indifference to Suffering Their Business Honesty.

The Chinaman is not wantonly cruel, but he is marvelously indifferent to the sufferings of others, says the Contemporary Review. The cook will cover a rat with kerosene and set it alight, not to enjoy its sufferings, but because he believes its screams will scare its fellows away. A magistrate will fan himself gently on the execution ground on which a yelling malefactor is being gradually cut to pieces, not because he enjoys the spectacle, but because it is all part of his day's work. A crowd of spectators will watch a child drown because it is no one's special business to save it, and because to interfere in what does not concern you may give rise to trouble. From what has already been said as to the keen interest taken by the Chinese in money matters, it may be surmised that they should be par excellence, a "nation of shopkeepers." And so they are. To their credit be it said that they have thoroughly realized that bargains are binding. The tea merchant may endeavor in every way to get the better of his European confrere, but once the mystic words "putte book"—that is, enter it in writing—have been uttered, the latter may rely on the transaction being faithfully carried through. This comparatively high standard of commercial morality naturally results in an elaborate system of credit, greatly to the advantage of both contracting parties, and, though the "squeeze," or perquisite, enters into every arrangement, it is not sufficient to stop the wheels of commerce, though undoubtedly it frequently clogs them. To go back on your word in a business transaction, or to fail to meet your liabilities, causes a Chinaman to "lose face," and this is to him unbearable. The sacrifices which he will make on the approach of his new year to enable him to avoid being posted as insolvent are as extraordinary as they are admirable. Nor would it be right to omit all reference to the fact that to their justice they frequently add generosity. I well remember a case in which an American, who has failed after years of labor, was supported during the remainder of his life by his "compradore," as the native employed by European firms in their dealings with Chinese is termed.

Chairman Smoot was authorized to open party headquarters and open the campaign when he deemed it the proper time.

An Interview and Denial.

Referring to the article in the Salt Lake Tribune of Friday respecting S. R. Thurman and the nomination of D. O. Rideout as candidate for Congressman, THE DEMOCRAT man interviewed Thurman today in connection with the story. Thurman said: "It is untrue that I promised to nominate Rideout; it is untrue that I promised to meet him at a given place Tuesday evening to talk over data for a nominating speech; the statement is untrue that I did not meet Rideout the evening before the State convention. With these few corrections the Tribune article referred to may stand." It is perhaps just to both Thurman and also to Rideout for us to say that Thurman does not believe that Rideout is responsible for the statement made in the Tribune.
